

Bouncing Bunnies

To Play:

Before you begin:

Insert 2 “AA” batteries into the bottom of the garden game base. Press down the brown bunny burrows on the garden game base (they will click into place) and put a bunny in each burrow. Each player takes a net and gets ready to catch the Bouncin’ Bunnies when they start to pop out.

Playing the game:

Slide the on/off switch to start and the garden starts to revolve. Stay alert because the bunnies will start to pop out of their burrows. When you catch a bunny, remove it from your net and place it in front of you. Be ready to catch another!

Any bunny that pops out but is not caught is removed from the game and put aside.

Winning the game:

When the last bunny has hopped out, players count the number of bunnies in front of them. The player who caught the most wins.

This game is best when played in rounds. Decide how many rounds to play. When all rounds are played, the player who won the most rounds wins the game.

Game Variation:

It is fun to play for points, too. Each color bunny has a different point value:

Red bunnies score 5 points

Blue bunnies score 3 points

Yellow bunnies score 2 points

Green bunnies score 1 point

When a game (or round) is over, players count their points. Whoever scores highest wins.

This is a good way for young players to practice their counting skills, too!

Requires two (2) “AA” batteries (not included)
